"Die Before Work" Declare Russians

Five Hundred Immigrants Hear Statement From Perelstrous

That the seriousness of the Russian situation is not abating with the passing of the weeks is evidenced by the determined and uncompromising attitude of the immigrants, although many of them are suffering the pangs of hunger and the rainy day misery of their gipsy camp at Iwili.

About five hundred of the immigrants gathered at the camp this afternoon to hear a statement written by A. Perelstrous, the promoter of the immigration scheme, in which he summoned all the possible arguments to convince his fellow countrymen that they should abandon their stand and go to work on the plantations. The document was read by interpreter Thomas and its tenor was not kindly received by the hundreds of rain-soaked and hungry immigrants from Manchuria.

"Die before work," was the interpretation placed upon many of the expressions that were included in the document, intermingled with strong language applied to its author. It is understood that the last appeal to the misled immigrants was made by Perelstrous under the sanction of the Territorial Board of Immigration, the members of which have practically given up hope of an amicable settlement.

When the Russians learned that they were to hear another statement they believed that it was an offer of concession from the Board of Immigration and their disappointment was not concealed when they discovered that it was simply advice for them to go back to work.

Calhoun To Face Trial

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 25.—Judge Lawlor showed today his determination to bring Patrick Calhoun to a final trial on the charge of bribery of the city supervisors. Attorneys defending Calhoun made a motion today to dismiss the indictments against Calhoun and all other graft indictments. Prosecuting Attorney Fickert concurred in this motion. Judge Lawlor refused to grant it.

"NO STRIKE," SAY JAPANESE

Think It Is Best Not To Renew Labor Trouble

Since the publication in the Advertiser of a probable strike among the plantation laborers, the Japanese generally have been worked up over the reports of such news, especially in view of the present state of peaceful satisfaction among them.

A number of the Japanese merchants when seen this morning expressed their disapproval over the publication of such strike news. They believe that the less is said of strike, the better it is for the community. As far as they were concerned they were of the opinion that the strike was a thing of the past. They are inclined, however, to think that if the newspapers continue publishing strike talk, some trouble might arise.

In order to get the expressions of opinion regarding the talk of strike, a number of interviews were obtained this morning from some prominent Japanese.

"The Jiji is not advocating a strike, and does not propose to create any trouble," said K. Ono, one of the stockholders of the Nippon Jiji.

"At the meeting of the stockholders of the Nippon, which was held recently, it was decided that the paper resort to a peaceful policy."

No Change Is Possible

Honolulu, April 23, 1910.

Monk.

Washington, April 25, 1910.

BULLETIN.

Washington, April 25, 1910.

Honolulu.

Government has title to Bishop street site and no apparent possibility change. Congress can only make change.

MONK.

On Monday the Bulletin at the suggestion of business interests of the city, cabled its Washington correspondent to secure the details of the present situation regarding the Federal building site with the result given.

The fact that a change cannot be made except by act of Congress is understood to be confirmed by the United States District Attorney.

In view of these facts, the occasion for the Superintendent of Public Works stirring up the old cry against the Mahukona site and continuing the talk for the Irwin site is not apparent, as the only practical result is to raise the point of continued difference of opinion and possibly delay the beginning of the work of construction.

SUSPENSIONISTS SHOULD CHEER UP

New York Is Up Against A Much Fiercer Proposition

Cheer up! advocates of coastwise suspension.

New York city is up against a far more painful steamship proposition than dear old Honolulu.

H. Hackfeld & Co., who represent the great Holland-American line, operating large twenty thousand ton liners between New York and Rotterdam, are in receipt of a letter which should cause the most rabid coastwise suspensionist to see things in a more cheerful and hopeful light.

The letter, under date of April 8, informs the local agents that at present all first class cabin accommodations on outgoing steamers from New York, with a possible exception of the highest priced rooms, have been sold on all liners operated by that company between May 31st and July 5th.

The same sad condition of affairs exists on the other side of the Atlantic, as is borne out by the letter which announces that steamers sailing from Rotterdam between August 20 and September 24, have been booked to full capacity.

H. Hackfeld & Co. have been further advised to save unnecessary cable tolls in making application for reservations to or from Europe during the period as stated.

The Hamburg-America and the North German Lloyd liners are also reported in about the same condition as pertains to booking immediate business to or from Europe.

"And don't lose sight of the fact that these vessels all fly a foreign flag."

Honolulu is not so bad off after all with every steamer coming down from the coast and returning to the mainland with anywhere from a half dozen to thirty empty cabins.

DEVLIN IS CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 25.—The Senate today confirmed the reappointment of District Attorney Devlin of San Francisco.

BAND WILL PLAY WILHELMINA OFF

Sierra Also Departs For San Francisco On Wednesday

The Matson Navigation liner Wilhelmmina, scheduled to sail for San Francisco on Wednesday morning, can still accommodate a number of cabin passengers in addition to those already booked for passage at the agency of Castle and Cooke.

The vessel will leave at ten o'clock on Wednesday morning with a comfortable list of travelers. The full capacity of the new Matson steamer is not taken up by any means however and at the present time all applications for transportation are being enrolled.

Wants $3,000 For Death Of Her Son

Mother Alleges Kahului Railroad Company Guilty Of Negligence

Three thousand dollars damages and the costs of the action are asked in a suit filed this morning by Jennie Kanaana against the Kahului Railroad Company. The plaintiff alleges that the negligence of employees of the company was responsible for the death of her son, Lewi Kanaana, 16 years old, at Kahului, on January 28 of this year.

From the complaint it appears that the son had for eight months been in the employ of the company before the accident which resulted in his death, first as a laborer on the dock and warehouses of the company, and for the two weeks prior to his death as a brakeman. It was while acting as a brakeman and riding on the pilot of the engine that his foot was caught, below, between both legs and bruising him so badly that he died the following day, January 29.

Engineer Spencer was in charge of the engine from which the boy fell, but had left it with Fireman Toxeira, who had done some shifting and had gone to the water tank to take water. Returning from the tank to again couple onto the train, Lewi was riding on the pilot when in some way his feet were caught, dragging him from the engine and injuring him so badly that he died.

The mother states in the complaint that she was dependent upon her son for support, that the company was negligent in allowing a fireman to run an engine, and that the latter and the engineer were at fault in allowing the boy to ride on the pilot.

A. G. Correa of Wailuku and Atkinson & Quarles are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SOME REFUSE TO REMOVE HATS

Division Of Opinion Among Women Of Central Union

"The members of the Woman's Society of Central Union Church discussed the question very fully as to the desirability of removing their hats during divine service. This matter was brought up at their last regular business meeting," so stated Dr. Doremus Seudder, pastor of Central Union Church, this morning.

"Without taking any vote, those who desired to remove their hats were asked by the president of the society to show their willingness to do so by raising their right hand. About three-

PRESIDENT NOTLEY WILL RUN AGAIN

Home Rulers On Hawaii Expect To Come Of Victorious

"The Home Rule Party, it seems to me is taking the lead on Hawaii in matters political. The Home Rule Party there are more than ever closely united. They expect to put up a strong and victorious fight."

Charles K. Notley, president of the Home Rule party, who arrived from Hawaii Saturday morning, made the above statement when interviewed. As is his opinion.

Notley is here on business, other than politics; but as is customary with those who are closely identified with the political questions of the day, he
